The National Center for Life and Liberty is a nonprofit legal ministry dedicated to protecting and defending the Bible-based values upon which our nation was founded. Homeschool Center—an outreach of the NCLL—was created to be a legal help and resource to homeschool families. Protecting. Equipping. Serving. HC is a fresh approach to homeschooling legal help. For more information and to join, visit <http://homeschool.ncll.org/>. Legal challenges and questions will come—let the NCLL be there to help you when they do.

The following is an explanation of homeschool law for Colorado along with references to additional and more exhaustive resources.

Dear Homeschool Family,

More and more parents across the country and around the world are exercising the choice to educate their children at home. At the National Center for Life and Liberty, we are committed to defending the fundamental rights of parents to direct and control the upbringing of their children, which includes protecting and defending their right to homeschool. We are also committed to providing our members with help and encouragement so they can homeschool legally and with excellence. When families join the Homeschool Center at the National Center for Life and Liberty, they can rest assured that we will be there if and when they have legal questions about their homeschooling. Our members have access to summaries of homeschool state laws as well as an attorney to assist them with all legal compliance questions. We also provide the following services:

- Guidance on pursuing sports or extracurricular activities with the public school
- Guidance on seeking special needs services from the public school
- Pro bono legal representation in litigation if we determine the issue will advance homeschool liberty
- Assistance in college, trade school, and financial application eligibility questions
- Assistance with social security benefit eligibility for homeschoolers
- Advising in social service issues that are related to homeschool issues

The ministry of the NCLL's Homeschool Center is exactly that—a ministry. We are here to serve you and defend your right to raise and educate your children. In keeping with this mission, the NCLL does everything possible to keep costs low so that we can serve homeschoolers all across the country. Also, while other organizations require an “application” process and require you to follow narrowly defined rules, the NCLL Homeschool Center invites you only to complete a simple “registration” process in order to join. We do not want to control your homeschooling efforts; we are here to provide you with information, encouragement, and support as you diligently homeschool your children.

We are called of God and committed to serving you and your family! Please let us know how we can be of assistance to you.

Thank you for the privilege,

Attorney David C. Gibbs III
President and General Counsel
National Center for Life and Liberty

COLORADO HOMESCHOOL LEGAL REQUIREMENTS

Colorado residents have the right to homeschool their children. The state, however, does place certain requirements that you, as a parent or guardian, need to follow. Three different options are available.

THE THREE OPTIONS ARE:

- Option 1: Establishing a non-public, home-based educational program (homeschool)
- Option 2: Enrolling in an independent or private school offering home instruction and comprised of at least two families
- Option 3: Hiring a private tutor

OPTION 1

Establishing a non-public, home-based educational program (homeschool)

COMPULSORY ATTENDANCE

Applies to children between the ages of six (as of August first) and seventeen. If homeschooling under option 1, the age is from seven to sixteen, but parents should submit the notice of intent beginning in the year the child is six by August 1st, even though actual instruction does not have to begin until age seven.

SOURCES OF LAW

Colorado Revised Statutes §22-33-104 (compulsory attendance); 22-33-104.5 (home-based education)

TEACHER QUALIFICATIONS

Teacher certification is not required. Instruction must be provided by a parent or an adult relative designated by a parent.

REPORTING/REGISTRATION

If the child is in public or private school, send a letter of withdrawal to avoid possible truancy issues.

Parents should file a notice of intent to any Colorado public school district office fourteen days before commencing homeschooling and each year thereafter; parents must certify in writing the name, age, place or residence, and number of hours of attendance of each child enrolled in the homeschool program.

RECORD KEEPING

Keep attendance records, test and evaluation results, and immunization records. These records must be kept permanently and produced to the local school district upon fourteen days' notice if the superintendent has probable cause to believe that the program is not in compliance with guidelines.

REQUIRED SUBJECTS, DAYS OF ATTENDANCE, AND OTHER REQUIREMENTS

Subjects to be taught include, at minimum, reading, writing and speaking, mathematics, history, civics, literature, science, and regular courses of instruction in the Constitution of the United States.

Attendance must be at least 172 days, averaging four hours per day.

REQUIRED TESTING/ASSESSMENTS

Parents have two options:

1. Have students take a nationally standardized achievement test at grades three, five, seven, nine, and eleven and submit results to the same district where the notice of intent was sent or to an independent or parochial school (in which case the school name must be provided to the school district where the notice of intent was filed). Students must score above the thirteenth percentile to continue the homeschool program.
2. Have students evaluated by a “qualified person” selected by the parents and who is(a) a Colorado-certified teacher; (b) a teacher employed by a private school; (c) a licensed psychologist; or (d) a person with a graduate degree in education.

OPTION 2

Enrolling in independent or private school offering home instruction and comprised of at least two families

COMPULSORY ATTENDANCE

Compulsory attendance applies to children between the ages of six (by August 1st) and seventeen.

SOURCES OF LAW

Colorado Revised Statutes §22-33-104(2)(b)

TEACHER QUALIFICATIONS

Teacher certification is NOT required.

REPORTING/REGISTRATION

If the child is in public or private school, send a letter of withdrawal to avoid possible truancy issues. Follow all reporting requirements of the private school.

RECORD KEEPING

The school must maintain “minimal records,” and parents must keep/produce records as required by the private school.

REQUIRED SUBJECTS, DAYS OF ATTENDANCE, AND OTHER REQUIREMENTS

Subjects shall provide a “basic academic education,” including reading, writing and speaking, mathematics, history, civics, literature, and science. Attendance must be a minimum of 172 days. The school must be comprised of at least two families.

REQUIRED TESTING/ASSESSMENTS

Follow all testing required by the school. No particular testing is required by statute.

OPTION 3

Hiring a private tutor

COMPULSORY ATTENDANCE

Compulsory attendance applies to children between the ages of six (by August 1st) and seventeen.

SOURCES OF LAW

Colorado Revised Statutes, §22-33-104(2)(i)(I)

TEACHER QUALIFICATIONS

Teacher certification is required.

REPORTING/REGISTRATION

If the child is in public or private school, send a letter of withdrawal to avoid possible truancy issues; otherwise, no specific reporting is required.

RECORD KEEPING

No particular record keeping is required.

REQUIRED SUBJECTS, DAYS OF ATTENDANCE, AND OTHER REQUIREMENTS

No subjects are required by statute; see option 1 for suggested guidance.

REQUIRED TESTING/ASSESSMENTS

No specific testing is required.

WHEN LEGAL CHALLENGES PRESENT THEMSELVES:

- 1 Calmly learn and follow your state’s laws. State summaries are available at our website, and we are always available to answer your questions.
- 2 As you teach your children at home, know that you’re a “walking advertisement” for homeschooling. Our relatives, neighbors, and others we encounter are watching. It’s a good idea to watch your outside activities during school hours. Try to share some homeschool highlights with your relatives so they might be won over. Also, avoid disciplining your child in public, because understanding of what is appropriate varies.
- 3 Leaving children at home alone is always risky—especially if you frequently leave older children home alone with younger children. Is there an appropriate age when it is fine to leave them alone? Consider calling your local social services agency to ask its opinion.

IF YOU RECEIVE A PHONE CALL:

- 1 If a homeschooler receives a phone call from someone representing himself as a school or social services authority, never give information over the phone! Make it your goal to get information from the caller. Ask what has prompted this call, the caller’s name, telephone number, title, and the agency he represents. Give yourself time to calm down and consider the request. Tell the caller that you will either get back to him or that your attorney will get back to him. Above everything, keep calm, as this initial call can set the tone for the entire encounter.
- 2 If the caller wishes to arrange a meeting and you agree to meet, allow yourself plenty of calendar time between the day of the call and the day of a future meeting. You will want to decide on a strategy and/or consult an attorney. If you agree to meet, arrange to meet in the official’s office and definitely not in your home.

IF YOU RECEIVE A LETTER IN THE MAIL

- 1 Read the letter slowly and carefully. Make sure that you know what is being asked of you, and take the time to discern who is asking. If the request is clear and unambiguous (such as asking for a copy of a birth certificate) and the law clearly specifies that it is required, it may be best to comply. Before supplying any information, either by mail or in person, verify the authenticity of the person and the agency making the request as well as the necessity of the information.
- 2 If the request is at all questionable, take time to study the issue and consult your attorney. If it means time, write or call the sender to say that you'll need more time.
- 3 Remember, if you mail anything or bring anything to an official's office, keep copies of what you mailed or brought for your files. If you decide to mail any items, mail them return-receipt requested. This documentation from the Post Office means you will receive proof that the letter you sent was signed for and received.
- 4 An electronic or e-mail notification is not sufficient legal notice of a legal challenge. Do not reply to an electronic notification of a legal challenge without seeking legal advice.

IF YOU RECEIVE A VISITOR AT THE DOOR

- 1 First, you are entitled to know the reason for any visit. The visitor may tell you he does not have to tell you the reason, or he may tell you that he needs to come inside of your home to talk to you. Neither claim is true! Government officials are required to tell you the specific allegations that led to their visit.

- 2 Be polite and ask for a business card or an ID badge. If the visitor wants to enter your home, ask if he has a search warrant. Without a warrant, he has no legal authority to enter your home. Getting a warrant is not an easy task for a government official. The official will have to demonstrate to a judge that he has “probable cause” to believe that either (1) a crime has been committed or that (2) some other compelling reason exists for the agency to enter your home to investigate. A warrant requires much more than an anonymous tip or mere suspicion. Remember—no warrant, no entry.
- 3 Be calm! If you have a local lawyer or are a member of the Homeschool Center, call your attorney on the phone while the visitor is still at your door. Then, hand the phone over to the visitor and have your attorney do the talking for you.
- 4 Be respectful to the visitor, but also respect yourself and your family. If the visitor insists on seeing your children, bring the children outside the door. Allowing an official inside gives him too great of an opportunity to go on a “fishing expedition.” The visitor may request immediate answers to one or more questions, but tell him that you will speak to him only after you have consulted with your legal counsel.
- 5 The visitor may threaten to obtain a warrant. Don’t be frightened by this. Of course you will fully cooperate if he returns and shows you the warrant, but chances are that he is merely trying to frighten you. Don’t be frightened, but seek legal counsel immediately.
