The National Center for Life and Liberty is a nonprofit legal ministry dedicated to protecting and defending the Bible-based values upon which our nation was founded. Homeschool Center—an outreach of the NCLL—was created to be a legal help and resource to homeschool families. Protecting. Equipping. Serving. HC is a fresh approach to homeschooling legal help. For more information and to join, visit <http://homeschool.ncll.org/>. Legal challenges and questions will come—let the NCLL be there to help you when they do.

The following is an explanation of homeschool law for Nebraska along with references to additional and more exhaustive resources.

Dear Homeschool Family,

More and more parents across the country and around the world are exercising the choice to educate their children at home. At the National Center for Life and Liberty, we are committed to defending the fundamental rights of parents to direct and control the upbringing of their children, which includes protecting and defending their right to homeschool. We are also committed to providing our members with help and encouragement so they can homeschool legally and with excellence. When families join the Homeschool Center at the National Center for Life and Liberty, they can rest assured that we will be there if and when they have legal questions about their homeschooling. Our members have access to summaries of homeschool state laws as well as an attorney to assist them with all legal compliance questions. We also provide the following services:

- Guidance on pursuing sports or extracurricular activities with the public school
- Guidance on seeking special needs services from the public school
- Pro bono legal representation in litigation if we determine the issue will advance homeschool liberty
- Assistance in college, trade school, and financial application eligibility questions
- Assistance with social security benefit eligibility for homeschoolers
- Advising in social service issues that are related to homeschool issues

The ministry of the NCLL's Homeschool Center is exactly that—a ministry. We are here to serve you and defend your right to raise and educate your children. In keeping with this mission, the NCLL does everything possible to keep costs low so that we can serve homeschoolers all across the country. Also, while other organizations require an “application” process and require you to follow narrowly defined rules, the NCLL Homeschool Center invites you only to complete a simple “registration” process in order to join. We do not want to control your homeschooling efforts; we are here to provide you with information, encouragement, and support as you diligently homeschool your children.

We are called of God and committed to serving you and your family! Please let us know how we can be of assistance to you.

Thank you for the privilege,

Attorney David C. Gibbs III

NEBRASKA HOMESCHOOL LEGAL REQUIREMENTS

Nebraskans have the right to homeschool their children. The state, however, does place certain requirements that you, as a parent or guardian, need to follow. One option is available.

THE ONLY OPTION IS:

- Option 1: Establishing an exempt school at home

OPTION 1

Establishing an exempt school at home

Nebraska has no statute specifically authorizing homeschooling. Instead, parents may homeschool their children by establishing a school at home that is exempt from the requirement to send their children to a school that meets state approval/accreditation. Parents must choose one of 2 exemptions: A rule 12 non-religious exemption (which requires proof of vaccinations), or a Rule 13 Religious Objection.

COMPULSORY ATTENDANCE

Compulsory attendance applies to children who are six prior to January 1 of the school year until age eighteen or completion of homeschool program. Parents may file for an exemption for a child under age seven or a child who has turned sixteen by filing a signed and notarized specified release form (for sixteen and over) or a notarized affidavit (under seven).

SOURCES OF LAW

Nebraska Revised Statutes §79-201 (compulsory attendance), §79-1601(2) (exempt private schools) and Nebraska Administrative Code, Title 92, Rule 12 or 13 (type of exemption).

TEACHER QUALIFICATIONS

No teacher qualifications are required unless the teacher is “employed” by the family. See requirements for this scenario in § 79-1601(5).

REPORTING/REGISTRATION

Thirty days prior to the start date of homeschooling and annually by July 15 thereafter, each parent must file a signed and notarized Parent or Guardian Form (Form A and Parent Representative Form (Form B).

Nebraska Department of Education:
<http://www.education.ne.gov/fos/orgservices/exemptschools/Index.html>

On Form A, parents must choose one of two exemptions. Under oath, they must state whether the requirement to send their child to a state accredited school either interferes with their decisions regarding their child's education (Rule 12), or whether it violates the parents' sincerely held religious beliefs (Rule 13. Parents must also affirm that their children will receive a sequential program of instruction in the basic subject areas listed below (see "Required Subjects").

On Form B, parents or their representative must affirm their acceptance of their legal duties to operate an exempt school, including the duty to submit enrollment and attendance information, monitor qualifications, and administer a sequential program of instruction.

Parents also need to file a certified copy of each child's birth certificate (for the first year of enrollment) and an information summary attached to Form B consisting of a school calendar indicating how instructional time requirements will be met, a list of instructional monitors and their qualifications, and a scope and sequence for each grade level. Forms are available at the Nebraska Department of Education website (below). Form C is filed to discontinue enrollment of a child who is sixteen but not yet eighteen. Form D is filed to report a student's completion of high school.

RECORD KEEPING

No specific record keeping is required, but parents should keep attendance data and grades. Filing under Rule 12 also requires maintaining immunization records.

REQUIRED SUBJECTS, DAYS OF ATTENDANCE AND OTHER REQUIREMENTS

If operating under Rule 12, children must be immunized.

Subjects are required to meet the basic skills in language arts, math, science, social studies, and health. Required attendance is 1,032 hours for elementary school and 1,080 hours for high school.

Private schools must comply with local health, fire, and safety regulations.

REQUIRED TESTING/ASSESSMENTS

In Nebraska Revised Statute §79-1601(2), the legislature granted authority to the Board of Education to conduct home visits (scheduled through the parent representative of each school) and to require regular achievement testing of private (home) schools. As of the time of this update, the state Board of Education has chosen not to enforce these provisions and thus testing is not required and the Board is not conducting regular home visits.

WHEN LEGAL CHALLENGES PRESENT THEMSELVES:

- 1 Calmly learn and follow your state’s laws. State summaries are available at our website, and we are always available to answer your questions.
- 2 As you teach your children at home, know that you’re a “walking advertisement” for homeschooling. Our relatives, neighbors, and others we encounter are watching. It’s a good idea to watch your outside activities during school hours. Try to share some homeschool highlights with your relatives so they might be won over. Also, avoid disciplining your child in public, because understanding of what is appropriate varies.
- 3 Leaving children at home alone is always risky—especially if you frequently leave older children home alone with younger children. Is there an appropriate age when it is fine to leave them alone? Consider calling your local social services agency to ask its opinion.

IF YOU RECEIVE A PHONE CALL:

- 1 If a homeschooler receives a phone call from someone representing himself as a school or social services authority, never give information over the phone! Make it your goal to get information from the caller. Ask what has prompted this call, the caller’s name, telephone number, title, and the agency he represents. Give yourself time to calm down and consider the request. Tell the caller that you will either get back to him or that your attorney will get back to him. Above everything, keep calm, as this initial call can set the tone for the entire encounter.
- 2 If the caller wishes to arrange a meeting and you agree to meet, allow yourself plenty of calendar time between the day of the call and the day of a future meeting. You will want to decide on a strategy and/or consult an attorney. If you agree to meet, arrange to meet in the official’s office and definitely not in your home.

IF YOU RECEIVE A LETTER IN THE MAIL

- 1 Read the letter slowly and carefully. Make sure that you know what is being asked of you, and take the time to discern who is asking. If the request is clear and unambiguous (such as asking for a copy of a birth certificate) and the law clearly specifies that it is required, it may be best to comply. Before supplying any information, either by mail or in person, verify the authenticity of the person and the agency making the request as well as the necessity of the information.
- 2 If the request is at all questionable, take time to study the issue and consult your attorney. If it means time, write or call the sender to say that you'll need more time.
- 3 Remember, if you mail anything or bring anything to an official's office, keep copies of what you mailed or brought for your files. If you decide to mail any items, mail them return-receipt requested. This documentation from the Post Office means you will receive proof that the letter you sent was signed for and received.
- 4 An electronic or e-mail notification is not sufficient legal notice of a legal challenge. Do not reply to an electronic notification of a legal challenge without seeking legal advice.

IF YOU RECEIVE A VISITOR AT THE DOOR

- 1 First, you are entitled to know the reason for any visit. The visitor may tell you he does not have to tell you the reason, or he may tell you that he needs to come inside of your home to talk to you. Neither claim is true! Government officials are required to tell you the specific allegations that led to their visit.

- 2 Be polite and ask for a business card or an ID badge. If the visitor wants to enter your home, ask if he has a search warrant. Without a warrant, he has no legal authority to enter your home. Getting a warrant is not an easy task for a government official. The official will have to demonstrate to a judge that he has “probable cause” to believe that either (1) a crime has been committed or that (2) some other compelling reason exists for the agency to enter your home to investigate. A warrant requires much more than an anonymous tip or mere suspicion. Remember—no warrant, no entry.
- 3 Be calm! If you have a local lawyer or are a member of the Homeschool Center, call your attorney on the phone while the visitor is still at your door. Then, hand the phone over to the visitor and have your attorney do the talking for you.
- 4 Be respectful to the visitor, but also respect yourself and your family. If the visitor insists on seeing your children, bring the children outside the door. Allowing an official inside gives him too great of an opportunity to go on a “fishing expedition.” The visitor may request immediate answers to one or more questions, but tell him that you will speak to him only after you have consulted with your legal counsel.
- 5 The visitor may threaten to obtain a warrant. Don’t be frightened by this. Of course you will fully cooperate if he returns and shows you the warrant, but chances are that he is merely trying to frighten you. Don’t be frightened, but seek legal counsel immediately.
